6. Personal health statement

Honesty statement

You are applying to enter into a contract of insurance.

As such, you have a duty to disclose all relevant information. Failing to provide the insurer with full and accurate information could result in your insurance cover being cancelled and any claim for benefits could be denied, so it is vital you answer all questions fully and accurately.

Although we ask you specific questions via a personal statement, you should also tell us about any other information that will impact on the insurer's decision to offer you insurance cover, regardless of whether you deem it to be material or important. This includes current medical issues that require investigation, medication or treatment, even if a diagnosis has not been made.

This obligation applies to all insurance cover relating to this application, including amounts transferred from another fund or insurance arrangement. This means you could be placed in a position where you have no insurance cover if we later find you have not answered all questions fully and accurately.

Your duty of disclosure continues until you receive written confirmation your application has been accepted. You must contact the insurer if there is any change in your health or circumstances that are relevant to the insurer's decision on your application.

7. Declaration

7a. Insurance duty of disclosure

Before CareSuper enters into an insurance contract in respect of a member, it has a duty to tell the insurer anything it knows or could reasonably be expected to know that may affect the insurer's decision to provide the insurance and on what terms.

CareSuper has this duty of disclosure until the insurance is provided. CareSuper has the same duty before it extends, varies or reinstates the contract.

CareSuper does not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- Reduces the risk of the insurance
- Is common knowledge
- The insurer knows or should know as an insurer, or
- The insurer waives the duty to tell the insurer about.

If you as a member of CareSuper do not tell the insurer something

If you, as the person whose life is to be insured as a member of CareSuper, do not tell the insurer something you know or could reasonably be expected to know that may affect the insurer's decision to cover you and on what terms, this may be treated as a failure by CareSuper.

If CareSuper does not tell the insurer something about you

- If CareSuper does not tell the insurer something it is required to and the insurer would not have provided you with the insurance if it had been told, the insurer may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it.
- If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, it may at any time reduce the amount of insurance provided to you. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if CareSuper had told the insurer everything it should have. However, if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death, the insurer may only exercise this right within three years of entering into the contract.
- If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount of insurance provided, it may at any time vary the contract in a way that places the insurer in the same position it would have been in if CareSuper had told the insurer everything it should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.
- If the failure to comply with the duty of disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

In exercising its rights, the insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of insurance, and may apply its rights separately to each type of cover.
