IMPORTANT INFORMATION

If you've met certain 'conditions of release' (specified in section 2 of this form), you can apply to convert your TTR pension to 'retirement phase'. This will mean:

- Investment earnings are tax exempt
- A 'transfer balance cap' applies, and
- Your annual pension amount is not subject to a maximum drawdown amount.

Under legislation, transition to retirement (TTR) accounts automatically enter the 'retirement phase' once the holder has satisfied a condition of release (see section 2 on the form) and notified the Trustee. This means you won't need to convert your TTR account to an allocated pension for earnings tax exemption to be available. You'll need to inform CareSuper that you've met a condition of release so your investment earnings can be treated as income tax exempt earnings. The value of the superannuation interest that supports your transition to retirement income account will begin to count towards your 'Transfer Balance Cap' from the time the TTR pension enters the 'retirement phase'. For further information on this cap visit ato.gov.au/super or speak to your financial advisor.

Note: Once you turn 65, these investments will automatically transfer to the tax-free investments and will count towards your transfer balance cap. We'll notify you when this transfer occurs.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT INCAPACITY OR TERMINAL ILLNESS

If you meet the total and permanent incapacity or terminal illness condition of release, the Trustee must be reasonably satisfied that 'the member's ill-health (whether physical or mental) makes it unlikely that the member will engage in gainful employment for which the member is reasonably qualified by education, training or experience'. To assist the Trustee with its determination you must provide two certificates from your registered medical practitioners, one of which must be a specialist in the area related to your illness or injury. The medical practitioners must certify that you meet the definition of permanent incapacity in accordance with superannuation legislation. To do this, you'll need to complete the Claim your super form available at caresuper.com.au/claimyoursuperform.

YOUR PRESERVATION AGE

Date of birth	Preservation age
Before 1 July 1960	55
1 July 1960 to June 30 1961	56
1 July 1961 to June 30 1962	57
1 July 1962 to June 30 1963	58
1 July 1963 to June 30 1964	59
1 July 1964 or after	60

RETIREMENT PHASE

The 'retirement phase' is when the income on your earnings is exempt from income tax. A limit applies to the amount of money you can have in 'retirement phase'.

TRANSFER BALANCE CAP

There's a limit on the amount of super that you can have in all of your tax-free retirement accounts combined, including your CareSuper Pension account. This limit is called the 'transfer balance cap'. The cap applies to the total balance of your existing tax-free retirement accounts. Refer to ato.gov.au for further information. If you exceed the cap, you may be required to pay a fine and transfer the excess money out of your retirement accounts. You should speak to a licensed or appropriately authorised financial adviser about whether this change will cause you to breach the cap.

OTHER THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

Your existing pension payments will continue in accordance with your chosen payment amount and method. If you wish to change your pension payments, you can do this via MemberOnline at caresuper.com.au/login or by calling us on 1300 360 149.

Your beneficiary nomination will also remain in place, if you've made one.
