1 About CareSuper

CARE Super ABN 98 172 275 725 (CareSuper) is an industry super fund that was established in 1986 to provide people with the means to save for a financially secure retirement. We are the largest industry fund specialising in super for people engaged in professional, managerial, administrative and service occupations. CareSuper returns all profits to members, which means more money for retirement. Currently, CareSuper:

- Manages over $10 billion in assets on behalf of our members
- Has over 250,000 members Australia-wide
- Has over 50,000 employers making contributions to our Fund.

CareSuper offers a MySuper product (Authorisation No. 98172275725867), the Balanced investment option, and meets other MySuper requirements in relation to benefits, insurance and fees. CareSuper is able to accept default super contributions in relation to employees who have not chosen a super product. If you are invested in the Balanced investment option, you will be part of the MySuper product.

CareSuper also offers 12 other investment options including Managed options, Asset Class options and a Direct Investment option.

Further MySuper information can be found at caresuper.com.au/mysuper, including a MySuper product dashboard. Other important Fund information including Trustee and executive remuneration, information about other investment options and additional documents prescribed by superannuation law are accessible (as and when required) at caresuper.com.au/aboutus.

CARE Super Pty Ltd ABN 91 006 670 060, AFSL 235226 is the Trustee of CareSuper and engages a team of dedicated staff to look after the everyday running of the Fund, including investments, corporate governance, marketing and communications, administration and business development.

This Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is for people joining CareSuper, either:

- Through their employer (referred to as Employee Plan members in this PDS), or
- As individuals or self-employed members (referred to as Personal Plan members in this PDS).

This PDS is also for employers who wish to nominate their employees as Employee Plan members.

This PDS is not for members joining CareSuper under a Corporate insurance arrangement organised by their employer.

2 How super works

Superannuation (super) is a compulsory form of investment to help you save for your retirement. While you are earning an income, your employer usually makes compulsory super guarantee (SG) contributions to your super account. You can make voluntary contributions to your super to help it grow faster. The Government also offers incentives for low income earners to contribute to super, making it an even more effective tool for funding retirement.

Super is one of the most tax-effective ways to fund your retirement. You can find out more about super and tax under 'How super is taxed' on page 11.

Choice of fund

Many Australian employees are eligible to choose the super fund to which their SG contributions are paid. If you don't make a choice, your SG contributions will go into your employer's default super fund, which (like CareSuper) must offer a MySuper product.

To have your super contributions paid into a fund other than your employer's default super fund, complete a Standard choice form available on request from your employer, or the Choice of fund form available from caresuper.com.au/forms. If you are eligible to choose a fund, your employer must usually accept at least one choice nomination from you each year. If your employer tries to discourage or deny your choice of fund, call the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) on 13 10 20.

Consolidating your super

Consolidating several super accounts into one account is a great way to simplify your super. When you have multiple accounts you pay multiple sets of fees, which can erode your super investment.

Before combining your super into CareSuper you should consider whether this is right for you and check if you will be charged any exit or other fees. You should also check the impact on any insurance arrangements (such as loss of insurance) or other benefits you may have in your other super fund. Special rules apply to combining super from an overseas super account. Contact us for general information and seek personal advice.

Boosting your super

You can make different types of contributions to your super, in addition to any SG contributions paid by your employer, including:

- Salary sacrifice contributions from your pre-tax salary (if your employer agrees). Pre-tax contributions are employer contributions
- Additional after-tax contributions, which may make you eligible for a Government co-contribution
- If you are self-employed, pre-tax contributions, which may be eligible for a tax deduction
- Contributions from your spouse, which may give your spouse a tax rebate.

Government co-contributions may be available to you if you make after-tax contributions and meet the eligibility criteria. Find out about your eligibility at ato.gov.au.

You should be aware that there are limits on the contributions superannuation funds can accept, as well as limits to the amount of pre-tax (concessional) and after-tax (non-concessional) contributions you can make without incurring additional tax (refer to the 'Tax' section of this PDS for some more details). These limits are known as 'contribution caps'. If your contributions are above the caps, you may have to pay extra tax. Make sure you consider the relevant caps as part of your contribution strategy. Information about caps is also available at ato.gov.au.

super is one of the most tax-effective ways to fund your retirement

Accessing your super

As super is designed to support retirement, access to super (in the form of a lump sum or pension) is restricted.

You can generally access your super money if you satisfy a specific requirement, including:

- Retirement on or after your preservation age
- Reaching age 65, or
- Other circumstances allowed by the Government.

Conditions for accessing super money are different for temporary residents.

Additional restrictions may also apply depending on the investments you choose.

These restrictions apply to cash withdrawals and transfers/rollovers to another super product or fund.

In certain circumstances super money may be transferred to an eligible rollover fund (ERF) or must be paid to the ATO. Different fees, costs and investments will apply in the ERF.

You can also rollover or transfer your benefit to another fund.

You should read the important information about accessing your super money before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read Accessing your super. The material relating to accessing your money may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

3 Benefits of investing with CareSuper

When you join CareSuper, we will set up an account for you. Your super contributions and any positive investment returns will increase your account balance. Tax, fees and insurance premiums will decrease your account balance, as well as any negative investment returns.

CareSuper offers a range of products, including:

- 1 The Employee Plan for members whose employers pay their superannuation guarantee contributions.
- 2 The Personal Plan for members who are self-employed or make their own contributions into a CareSuper account.

- 3 The CareSuper Pension for members who wish to draw an income from their super once they have reached retirement age. A Transition to Retirement option is also available. Information about CareSuper's pension options is contained in the CareSuper Pension PDS available from caresuper.com.au/PensionGuide.

Take a look at some of the benefits of investing with CareSuper:

- Profits for members, not shareholders or financial planners.
- Competitive fees. Because we don't have to provide a profit for shareholders, the fees we charge are only to cover the costs of administering and managing the Fund's operations.

- Long-term investment returns.

CareSuper's Balanced option has regularly been one of Australia's top performing investment options over the ten years up to 30 June 2015.¹

- 13 investment options to cater for a range of investment needs and risk profiles.

As a CareSuper member you can choose how your super is invested based on your investment needs, goals and attitude to risk.

For all investment options, other than the Direct Investment option, returns are passed on to members through unit prices. All transactions resulting in additions to or deductions from your account are managed through the purchase and sale of units.

Further investment information is available in Section 5 of this PDS.

- Cost-effective insurance. We offer members access to competitively priced insurance cover.

- Quality financial advice. Our members can receive financial advice over the phone on a range of super-related topics within CareSuper at no extra charge. This service is provided through Industry Fund Services Limited.² For more information on the types of advice available, the range of topics provided and how to get in touch, visit caresuper.com.au.

- Nominate beneficiaries for your peace of mind. You may nominate one or more dependants and/or your legal personal representative to receive your benefit when you die. You can choose the type of nomination that best suits your needs, either: a non-binding nomination or a binding nomination.

You should read the important information about nominating beneficiaries before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read Nominating your beneficiaries. The material relating to nominating beneficiaries may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

- Boost your spouse's super savings with some of your own. CareSuper members can apply to transfer concessional (pre-tax) contributions with CareSuper to a spouse's super account. This could help you take advantage of lower tax thresholds that may apply when drawing down super benefits after preservation age. To find out more about contribution splitting, visit caresuper.com.au or ato.gov.au.

- Communicating with our members. We provide information to our members in different ways, including online and by mail. We may occasionally contact you by SMS with information relevant to your membership.

different investment options carry different levels of risk

4 Risks of super

All investments carry risk, including your super. Different investment options carry different levels of risk depending on the assets that make up the investment option.

Assets with the highest long-term returns may also have the highest degree of short-term risk. Risk can mean either a fall in the value of your investment, particularly over shorter periods, or your investment not meeting your objectives over your desired timeframe.

Different investments also have varying levels of volatility. Volatility is the extent to which an investment increases or decreases in value over a short period of time. The value of investments and investment returns will vary from time to time. Future returns may differ from past returns.

Some of the risks you should consider are:

Inflation – the change in the cost of living over time and whether your investments can keep up with this change

Liquidity – the ability to turn an investment into cash with little or no loss of capital and minimal delay

Financial loss – assets can vary in or lose value, leaving you with less than you originally invested. This can happen through:

- Changes to the economy and market environment, changes in technology, laws, political or legal conditions
- Changes to growth forecasts for economies or companies
- Changes to investor confidence

- Interest rate changes affecting prices and the demand for certain investments
- Currency risks when invested in other countries, and
- The failure of a specific asset, such as a company becoming bankrupt.

If a financial loss occurs, there is a risk that you may lose money, which could impact your retirement plans. Because returns are not guaranteed, you may lose some of your money.

Understanding your level of risk

The level of risk you're prepared to take will be unique to your circumstances and depends on several factors, including:

- Your age
- Your investment timeframe
- Your objectives
- What other types of investments you have outside your super, and
- Your risk tolerance.

You should read the important information about the risks of super before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read the information about risk in the Investment Guide. The material relating to the risks of super may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

5 How we invest your money

When it comes to investing, CareSuper gives you lots of flexibility.

Before making an investment choice, you should consider the likely investment return, level of risk and investment timeframe associated with that investment option(s).

CareSuper offers 13 investment options, each with a varying degree of risk and expected return. You can mix the options to create the balance that's right for you. If you don't want to make an investment choice, your super will automatically be invested in CareSuper's MySuper option – the Balanced option.

You can choose from the following investment options:

- Capital Guaranteed
- Capital Stable
- Conservative Balanced
- Balanced (MySuper)
- Sustainable Balanced
- Alternative Growth
- Growth
- Capital Secure
- Fixed Interest
- Direct Property
- Australian Shares
- Overseas Shares
- Direct Investment option

CareSuper's Direct Investment option allows eligible members to invest a proportion of their super directly, into their choice of:

- The securities that form part of the S&P/ASX 300 Index
- A range of exchange-traded funds
- A range of listed investment companies, and
- A range of term deposits.

With a wide variety of available investments, sophisticated online access and up-to-date market information, the Direct Investment option provides the flexibility to become more actively involved in managing your super. You should also note that the standard rollover timeframes do not apply to investments in the Direct Investment option.

Switching investment options

Changing the way your super is invested is called 'switching'. You can usually switch investments as often as weekly. Switches can usually be made for:

- Your existing account balance, and/or
- Your future contributions and rollovers.

Buy–sell spreads may apply to switches.

CareSuper members can access financial advice about super-related topics and investment options within CareSuper over the phone, at no extra cost. This excludes investment choices available via the Direct Investment option. You can find out more about financial advice on page 5 of this PDS.

If your switch request is received before 5pm Friday (AEST) for written requests, or before midnight Friday (AEST) for online requests, it will usually be processed on the following Wednesday.

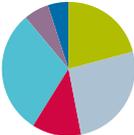

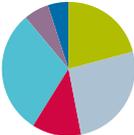

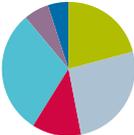

Different processing arrangements and timeframes may apply to investment transactions made within the Direct Investment option.

You can make an investment switch by logging into our secure MemberOnline service at caresuper.com.au or by completing an Investment choice form available from caresuper.com.au/forms.

You should read the important information about investments (including investment switches, unit pricing and the allocation of returns) before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read the Investment Guide. This material may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

6 Fees and costs

Consumer advisory warning

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example reduce it from $100 000 to $80 000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. Your employer may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees, where applicable. Ask your Fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Fees and costs can be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment, or from CareSuper's assets as a whole. You can use the table below to compare costs between different superannuation products.

CareSuper Balanced (MySuper) option
Type of fee	Amount	How and when paid
Investment fee	$0	Not applicable.
Administration fee	$78 per year ($1.50 per week) plus 0.15% – 0.20% ¹ of your account balance per year (a cap of $500 per year applies)	Calculated weekly or on full withdrawal. Calculated monthly or on full withdrawal. Fees are deducted monthly from your account, or on full withdrawal.
Buy sell spread ²	Buy 0.05% Sell 0.05%	Not applied directly to your account. Reflected in the weekly unit prices. If you invest into or take money out of the Balanced investment option, you will incur the buy or sell spread shown here.
Switching fee	$0	Not applicable.
Exit fee	$40	Applies to all partial and full withdrawals out of the Fund, but not transfers from one CareSuper account to another CareSuper account (such as a pension account). This fee is deducted from your account or the withdrawal amount at the time of withdrawal.
Advice fees relating to all members investing in a particular MySuper product or investment option	$0	Not applicable.
Other fees and costs ³
Indirect cost ratio ⁴	0.86%	Forms part of the weekly unit price calculation and is not deducted directly from your account.

- 1 This fee is reviewed at the end of each financial year and may change within the range shown.
- 2 CareSuper will review buy–sell spreads at least once every two years, and we reserve the right to change buy–sell spreads in the future.
- 3 Other fees and costs, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice or insurance fees, may apply. Refer to Fees and other costs available at caresuper.com.au/PDS for further information.
- 4 The indirect cost ratio (referred to as the ICR) is an estimate only and is based on estimated annual investment costs for the 2014/15 financial year.

Example of annual fees and costs for the MySuper (Balanced) option*

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs for the MySuper product in this superannuation product can affect your superannuation investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other superannuation products. Be careful to make comparisons on the same basis.

EXAMPLE – CareSuper’s MySuper product		BALANCE OF $50,000
Investment fees	0%	For every $50,000 you have in the MySuper product you will be charged $0 each year
PLUS Administration fees	0.2% + $78 ($1.50 per week)	And , you will be charged $100 in administration fees each year (based on a percentage of assets), plus $78 in administration fees regardless of your account balance
PLUS Indirect costs for the MySuper product	0.86%	And , indirect costs of $430 each year will be deducted from your investment
EQUALS Cost of product		If your balance was $50,000, then for that year you will be charged fees of $608* for the MySuper product.

* Additional fees may apply. And, if you leave the superannuation entity, you may also be charged an exit fee of $40.

Advice fees

Important note: If you seek personal advice about your super from a financial planner (that is, additional to the advice available at no extra charge), additional fees for service may apply as agreed. You may choose to have additional fees deducted from your CareSuper account. Refer to the Statement of Advice you receive from your financial planner for details. Any additional fees for advice are only deducted following your authorisation.

Alterations to fees and charges

The Trustee has the power to alter, increase or introduce new charges at its discretion without your consent. You will be advised of any material increase to charges at least 30 days before they are implemented.

Estimated indirect costs may vary from year to year depending on the expenses or costs incurred by the Fund from year to year.

If you require general information about CareSuper’s fees, call the CareSuperLine on 1300 360 149.

You should read the important information about fees and costs, including definitions of key fees and costs, before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read Fees and other costs. The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

7 How super is taxed

This is a summary only of key tax rules specifically relevant to superannuation and assumes we hold your tax file number. Tax rules are complex and change frequently. In some circumstances other tax rules may be relevant (for example, for high income earners, the Budget Repair Levy may be relevant). Further information is available at ato.gov.au.

Tax on contributions

All employer contributions to CareSuper, including amounts that have been salary sacrificed, and any personal (member) contributions for which a tax deduction is claimed, are usually subject to a 15% contributions tax. This tax is deducted from your account monthly (where contributions are made monthly). These are known as concessional contributions. Those earning over $300,000 p.a. may be required to pay contributions tax of 30% while low income earners may receive a rebate of the 15% tax on concessional contributions.

Personal contributions that are not claimed as a tax deduction, and spouse contributions, are not usually taxed. These are known as non-concessional contributions.

If you roll over funds into CareSuper that have an untaxed post-June 1983 component, 15% tax is payable on this untaxed component.

For information about when tax deductions for personal contributions are available to you (if you are self-employed) go to ato.gov.au.

Contribution caps

There are significant tax consequences if your contributions exceed contribution caps.

Contributions made to your super fund are capped, with any super contributions over the cap amounts being subject to extra tax. The amount of the contributions caps, and how much extra tax you pay once you exceed them, depends on whether the contributions are concessional or non-concessional and your age.

For an explanation of whether a contribution is classed as concessional or non-concessional, visit ato.gov.au.

Excess contributions tax

If contributions are made to your super that exceed the concessional contribution cap or non-concessional contribution cap set by the Government, you will be subject to higher tax. In some circumstances the additional tax can be taken out of the Fund. You may be able to obtain a refund of excess contributions, however, extra tax may still be payable by you personally. The rules are complex. For more information go to ato.gov.au.

Tax on investment earnings

Special tax rules apply to investment earnings from investments via the Direct Investment option. For information about this please refer to the Investment Guide available at caresuper.com.au/PDS.

Tax on withdrawals

Tax may also be applied on the withdrawal of your benefit in cash, depending on your age, the amount and composition of your benefit (in particular whether it contains a taxable component), the type of benefit and what you do with it. If you are 60 or over, lump sum or pension withdrawals from taxed super funds are tax-free.

Death benefits paid to dependants and eligible terminal illness benefits are usually tax free. Different tax rules apply in some circumstances, for example, withdrawals by former temporary residents or amounts sourced from or paid to an overseas super fund. Insured disablement benefits may be subject to tax.

Tax file number (TFN)

You should provide your TFN to us as part of acquiring this product. CareSuper is authorised by law to collect your TFN. You may provide it when you join or by completing the TFN notification form available from caresuper.com.au or by calling 1300 360 149. You are not obliged to disclose your TFN, but there may be tax or other consequences if you don't.

8 Insurance in your super

This is a summary of CareSuper's insurance terms and conditions. Detailed information about eligibility for cover, cancelling or changing cover, the level and type of cover, insurance costs, when cover starts and ends, exclusions, restrictions and other important terms and conditions that may affect your entitlement to insurance is outlined in the Insurance Guide. You should read the Insurance Guide before deciding whether this insurance is appropriate for you.

A benefit of joining the Employee Plan is that eligible Employee Plan members receive default insurance cover – see CareSuper's default insurance cover for Employee Plan members below. Provided you meet the relevant terms and conditions, you may be eligible for default cover without the need to provide medical evidence. Insurance premiums are paid from your super account, so you won't feel the impact on your take-home pay.

If you have default cover and would like extra cover, or if you join the CareSuper Personal Plan, you can apply for voluntary insurance cover. You may also be able to transfer insurance cover from another super fund if you are under age 60 and meet other eligibility conditions.

Please read the important information on page 14 that outlines how to get a copy of CareSuper's Insurance Guide.

CareSuper offers three types of insurance cover:

Death, total & permanent disablement (TPD) and income protection

- 1 Death cover provides a lump sum payment to your dependants or legal personal representative if you die. This can help ensure the ongoing wellbeing of family members, even if you are no longer around to provide for them. Early release of the death benefit may also be available if you are terminally ill. Eligibility conditions apply.
- 2 TPD cover provides an income stream or lump sum benefit if you are never able to work again (specific definitions apply). This payment can be used to cover medical bills, rehabilitation expenses or medically required home modifications, and to help ensure the overall security of your family. Eligibility conditions apply.
If you have previously received a benefit for TPD, or similar payment from any super fund or insurance policy prior to cover commencing with CareSuper, you will be restricted to death only cover, and will not be eligible for TPD or income protection cover. If you aren't eligible for the TPD cover, you will need to notify us or cancel your TPD cover. Otherwise TPD premiums will continue to be deducted from your account.
- 3 Income protection cover provides a temporary replacement income if you are unable to work due to illness or injury (specific conditions apply). This means you can continue to pay your bills while taking the time to recover and rehabilitate. On an ongoing basis you must be earning at least $16,000 p.a. or working 15 hours or more per week to be eligible for income protection cover.

CareSuper's default insurance cover for Employee Plan members

Age	Type of cover	Cost per week
15–29	1 unit of death 4 units of TPD	$4.45
30–64	4 units of death 4 units of TPD	$7.60
65–69	4 units of death	$4.20

Important note: You can cancel default cover (see page 14 to find out how) but if you don't the cost of cover will be deducted from your account.

How it works

- Default cover is provided in 'units' of death and TPD cover (or death only cover if you are aged 65 to 69). The amount of cover you receive per unit depends on your age and occupation. With unit-based cover, the same premium per unit applies each year, but your level of cover decreases on each birthday after age 30.
- The level of cover provided in the General occupational category by a unit of death and TPD (or death only) cover depends on your age and ranges from $100,280 for a member aged 15 to 32, to $8340 for a member aged 65 to 69.
- The premium for 1 unit of death cover is $1.05 per week. The premium for 1 unit of TPD cover is $0.85 per week. The premium for 1 unit of death and TPD cover is $1.90 per week.
- If you are an eligible new Employee Plan member, you can increase this cover up to 7 x annual salary to a maximum of $750,000 and/or add income protection cover without the need to provide evidence of health if you do so before age 60 and within 90 days of the date of your Welcome letter or email.
- Employee Plan members also have the option of increasing death and TPD cover by 1 unit or the equivalent amount of fixed cover (determined by your age) for specific life events without having to provide medical evidence, provided you apply before age 60 and within 90 days of the event. Life events include marriage, registering a de facto relationship, divorce, birth or adoption, taking out a mortgage for your primary residence, your child's first day at primary or secondary school, or death of your spouse. This is referred to as life events cover.
- New Member options and life events cover are subject to a pre-existing condition exclusion.
- You can choose fixed cover, where you set your cover at a fixed dollar amount. With fixed cover, the amount you pay will generally increase with each birthday, but the amount of cover will remain the same or can be indexed by 5% each year.

- If on an ongoing basis you earn at least $16,000 per year or work 15 hours or more per week, you can apply for income protection cover.
- CareSuper has three different occupational categories, providing different levels of cover according to the type of work you do. This is to reflect the different levels of risk associated with our members' occupations and roles. Read the Insurance Guide at caresuper.com.au/PDS for more information.

If you're a member of CareSuper's Personal Plan, insurance cover is not automatically provided to you. You can find out about your insurance options in the Insurance Guide and apply for cover using the Insurance application form.

When does my cover commence?

Provided you are eligible, default cover commences on the later of:

- The first day of the period for which the first SG contribution is paid by your employer (usually the date you commence work with your employer), or
- The date your employer becomes a participating employer of CareSuper. In some instances, this will be the date on which CareSuper receives the first SG contribution on your behalf, or
- The date 130 days before we receive your first SG employer contribution.

Any other insurance cover, which is only available by making an application on the relevant form, will commence on the date we advise you in writing.

There are costs associated with all insurance, which you are responsible for. The cost of your insurance cover will be deducted from your CareSuper account, unless you cancel your cover.

Are there any exclusions or restrictions?

A full list of definitions, restrictions and exclusions is provided in the Insurance Guide. These exclusions and restrictions include:

- If you have two or more accounts with CareSuper, you will not be entitled to insurance cover from more than one account. In the event of a claim, the account with the highest insured benefit will be regarded as the relevant account.
- Automatic acceptance of cover may occur only once while you are a member of CareSuper. If you have received automatic acceptance on more than one occasion, the insurer may adjust the cover accordingly.
- The insurer will not pay a benefit caused directly or indirectly by an act of war.
- 'Limited cover' will apply in a range of circumstances, including if you are not in 'active employment' when your cover commenced.

'Limited cover' means you are only covered for claims arising from:

- A sickness which first became apparent, or
- An injury which first occurred on or after the date the cover last commenced, recommenced or increased. If you have limited cover, additional exclusions may apply, including for intentional self-inflicted injury or infection, and suicide or attempted suicide.

Other conditions may apply. For full details about all exclusions, restrictions and definitions, refer to the Insurance Guide.

Can I change my cover later?

Yes. You can apply to increase, reduce or cancel the amount of cover you have at any time.

Employee Plan members can increase death and TPD cover based on specific life events, subject to meeting eligibility conditions. See page 13 for more information.

If you would like to increase your insurance cover at times other than a specific life event, or re-commence insurance cover, you will need to apply and be approved by the insurer. Your occupational category will be reviewed each time you complete a new application or apply to vary your insurance cover, unless medical evidence is not required. Applications may be subject to premium loadings and/or exclusions.

To apply for a variation or increase in insurance cover other than a life events increase, complete the Insurance application form available at caresuper.com.au/forms or log in to MemberOnline and go to the 'Insurance' section.

If you would like to:

- Reduce your level of cover
- Remove the TPD component so you have death only cover
- Remove the death component so you have TPD only cover, or
- Opt out of insurance altogether

call the CareSuperLine on 1300 360 149 to request the relevant form.

Please read the important information about insurance in the Insurance Guide before making a decision about insurance cover.

Our Insurer

CareSuper's insurer is Commlnsure. Commlnsure is a registered business name of The Colonial Mutual Life Assurance Society Limited ABN 12 004 021 809 AFSL 235035 (CMLA).

You should read the important information about the terms and conditions of insurance cover through CareSuper before making a decision. Go to caresuper.com.au/PDS and read our Insurance Guide. The material relating to insurance in your super may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day you acquire this product.

9 How to open an account

Joining CareSuper is easy – here are three different ways you can join.

1 Join online

Visit caresuper.com.au/join.

2 Complete a Member application form

You can download a Member application form from caresuper.com.au/PDS or request one by calling the CareSuperLine on 1300 360 149.

3 Through your employer

Your employer can sign you up either by completing the joining forms on your behalf, or through EmployerOnline at caresuper.com.au.

Employers wishing to enrol Employee Plan members into CareSuper must read this PDS and the Employer Guide available at caresuper.com.au. Once your employer has signed you up as an Employee Plan member, we'll send you a Welcome Pack, which includes your membership details and your member number.

Will you be contributing to CareSuper directly, rather than via an employer?

If so, you will need to join CareSuper's Personal Plan and apply for insurance cover if you want insurance. To join the Personal Plan, see options 1 and 2 above.

Cooling off period

A cooling off period is available to you if you become a member as a result of completing a Member application form or joining online, but not if you have been signed up to CareSuper as an Employee Plan member by your employer.

After you apply to join CareSuper you have 14 days, from the date on which CareSuper sends you confirmation of your application being accepted, to cancel your membership should you change your mind.

New employers also have a 'cooling off' period after joining CareSuper and enrolling their first employee. Call the CareSuperLine on 1300 360 149 for details.

The amount of refund you receive will be adjusted to take into account movements in investment values during the period between joining and cancelling membership. You will also be liable for any Government taxes and charges paid by CareSuper on your behalf. A refund will not necessarily be made to you directly, if a cash refund is not permitted by law. For example, any preserved amounts transferred from another super fund cannot be refunded to you but must be transferred to another super fund of your choice.
